ANNEXURE-III

Counselling Procedure:

1. The candidates qualified for counselling will be called on the specified date for counselling.
2. The parameters considered during the counselling are:
 - i. the roster point (see table below)
 - ii. social category allotted for that roster point
 - iii. merit order of the candidate belonging to the category and
 - iv. Availability of subject of the candidate's choice within the region he/she belongs to (see table below) if applicable.
3. The candidates will be called in the order of roster point and asked to choose the subject of their choice. The 1ST roster point happens to be OC category (Open category: irrespective of social status). Therefore, the top ranker among OC candidates will be called first and will be asked to choose the subject of his/her choice and will be allotted the subject, provided a seat is available within the region (if applicable) he/she belongs to. Similarly, the second candidate to be called will be the top ranker among SC candidates. The third candidate shall be top ranker among OC category (Open category: irrespective of social status) and so on. As the counselling proceeds, if a subject selected by a candidate is not available by virtue of getting filled up before, he/she will be allotted a subject of his/her second choice. The other restriction the candidate will have while selecting a particular subject is the availability of seat within the local region he/she belongs to. In case it is not available the candidate will be asked his/her next choice where a seat is available within the region he/she belongs to.
